SCORES SHOW HIGH RANKS WITH BEST; HAMMOND IS NEXT

Tan and Blue Place With Best in Michigan—Prepare for Saturday's Game With Purple and White.

A great many changes, in the standings of the northern Indiana high school eleven, were wrought by Saturday's games.

The chief upset was caused by Goshen defeating Elkhart nine to nothing.

Lagrange defeated Goshen by a score of 18 to nothing. This gives Lagrange an advantage over Elkhart. Elkhart was defeated earlier in the season by Benton Harbor, 12 to nothing. This would tend to show that Benton Harbor and Goshen are about evenly matched, as far as comparative scores go, which is about the only way teams can be judged.

Has Shade on Wolverines.

As Lagrange defeated Goshen and South Bend walloped Lagrange 42 to nothing, South Bend may be said to have a slight shade on Benton Harbor, although to claim a better team than the Wolverines, South Bend must down Elkhart by a larger score than 12 to nothing.

Central High school of Grand Rapids defeated Benton Harbor last Saturday by a score of 12 to six, showing South Bend on comparison of scores to be in a class with the Michigan state champions.

Now, if South Bend can beat Elkhart by a larger score than Benton Harbor downed them, she can lay claim to the title of northern Indiana and southern Michigan, as Benton Harbor has wiped the other southern Michigan teams off the field. The one school to stand between South Bend and the championship of central Michigan is the Grand Rapids team. This team wrote for a game this season but the local schedule was filled.

Championship of Two States.

Followers of the tan and blue would like to see a post-season game between Grand Rapids and South Bend, for the championship of the two states. This game could probably be arranged for the Saturday after Thanksgiving, as undoubtedly Grand Rapids has that date open and would accommodate the local school. The high school has no game for Thanksgiving and this game would be one of the best drawing cards of the year.

Outdoor practice instead of the usual indoor signal practice, was used Monday night by Coach Metzler in rounding the team into form for the game Saturday with Hammond. Metzler is confident of the outcome, but is working hard to have the team in the best possible condition, for Hammond may spring a surprise.

Practice Handling Ball.

A stiff practice in handling the ball will be given as a fumble was responsible for Ligonier's touchdown.

Shanefelt, the triple of the squad, is expected back in the lineup Tuesday, and is expected to fill his old place at right halfback.

None of the men was injured in Saturday's contest and all reported for practice Monday.

SHAMROCKS LOSE FIRST GAME TO LAPORTE 7-0

For the first time since the team was organized four years ago the Shamrocks were defeated by the Laporte Tigers by the score of 7-0, Sunday. The Shamrocks were outwitted about 15 pounds to the man, and the heavy field made fast plays impossible. The Shamrocks played a star game for the Shamrocks. His runs through the heavy Laporte line netted him gains of 10 and 15 yards at a time. Once he went through for the triple of the squad, he put up a good game. His punting was the best ever seen in Laporte. On several occasions he booted the ball for 60 yards and it was his toe that kept the Laporte team at safe distance from goal. Laporte scored in the second quarter when they worked the ball within two yards of the goal then put it over for a score of the game. The Shamrocks had one chance to score and had it not been for the crowd on the field it is likely that they would have scored on a forward pass that was blocked by a spectator.

MURPHY OFF FOR BRITAIN

President of Chicago Cubs Will Tour Through British Isles.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Pres. Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago National League will leave Chicago Tuesday for New York, whence he will sail on Thursday for Queenstown. In addition to the trip through England and an automobile tour of Ireland, Mr. Murphy's program includes a visit to Scotland. He will not return in time for the National league meeting in next year, but the Chicago club will be represented there by Harry Ackerman of Pittsburgh, who bought Frank Chance's stock in the club.

FUNNY PAIR TO WORK AGAIN

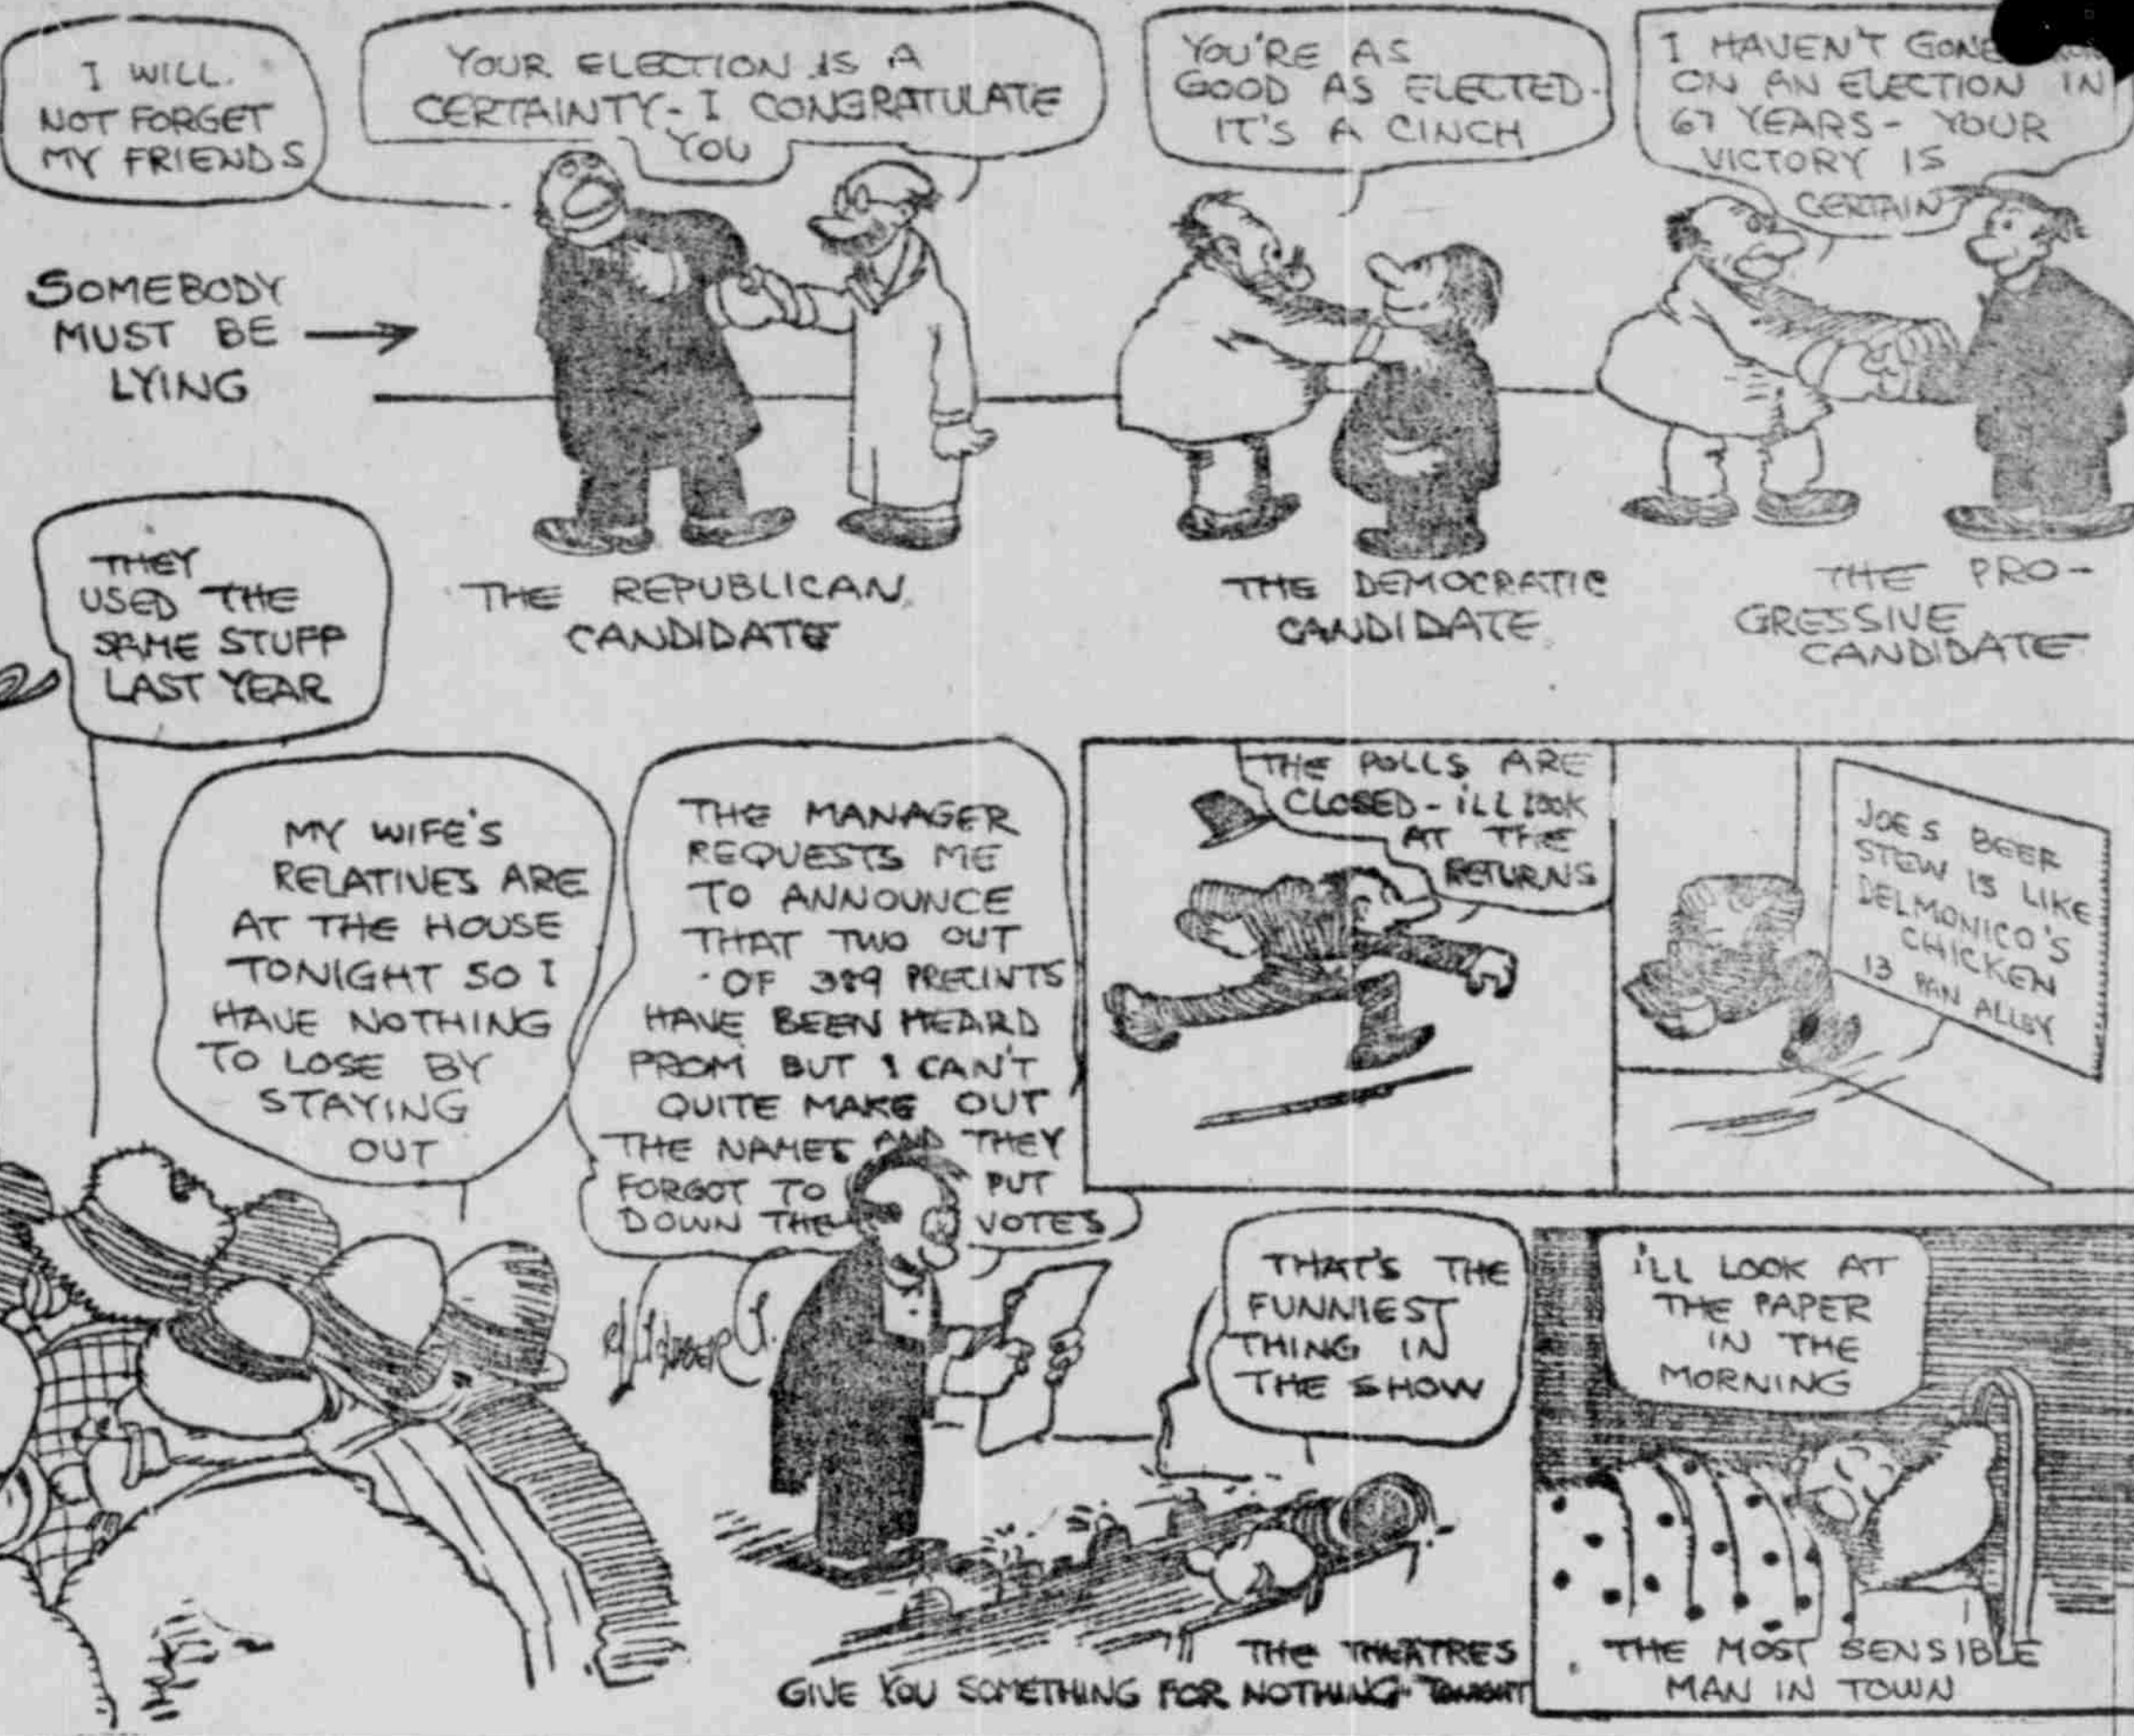

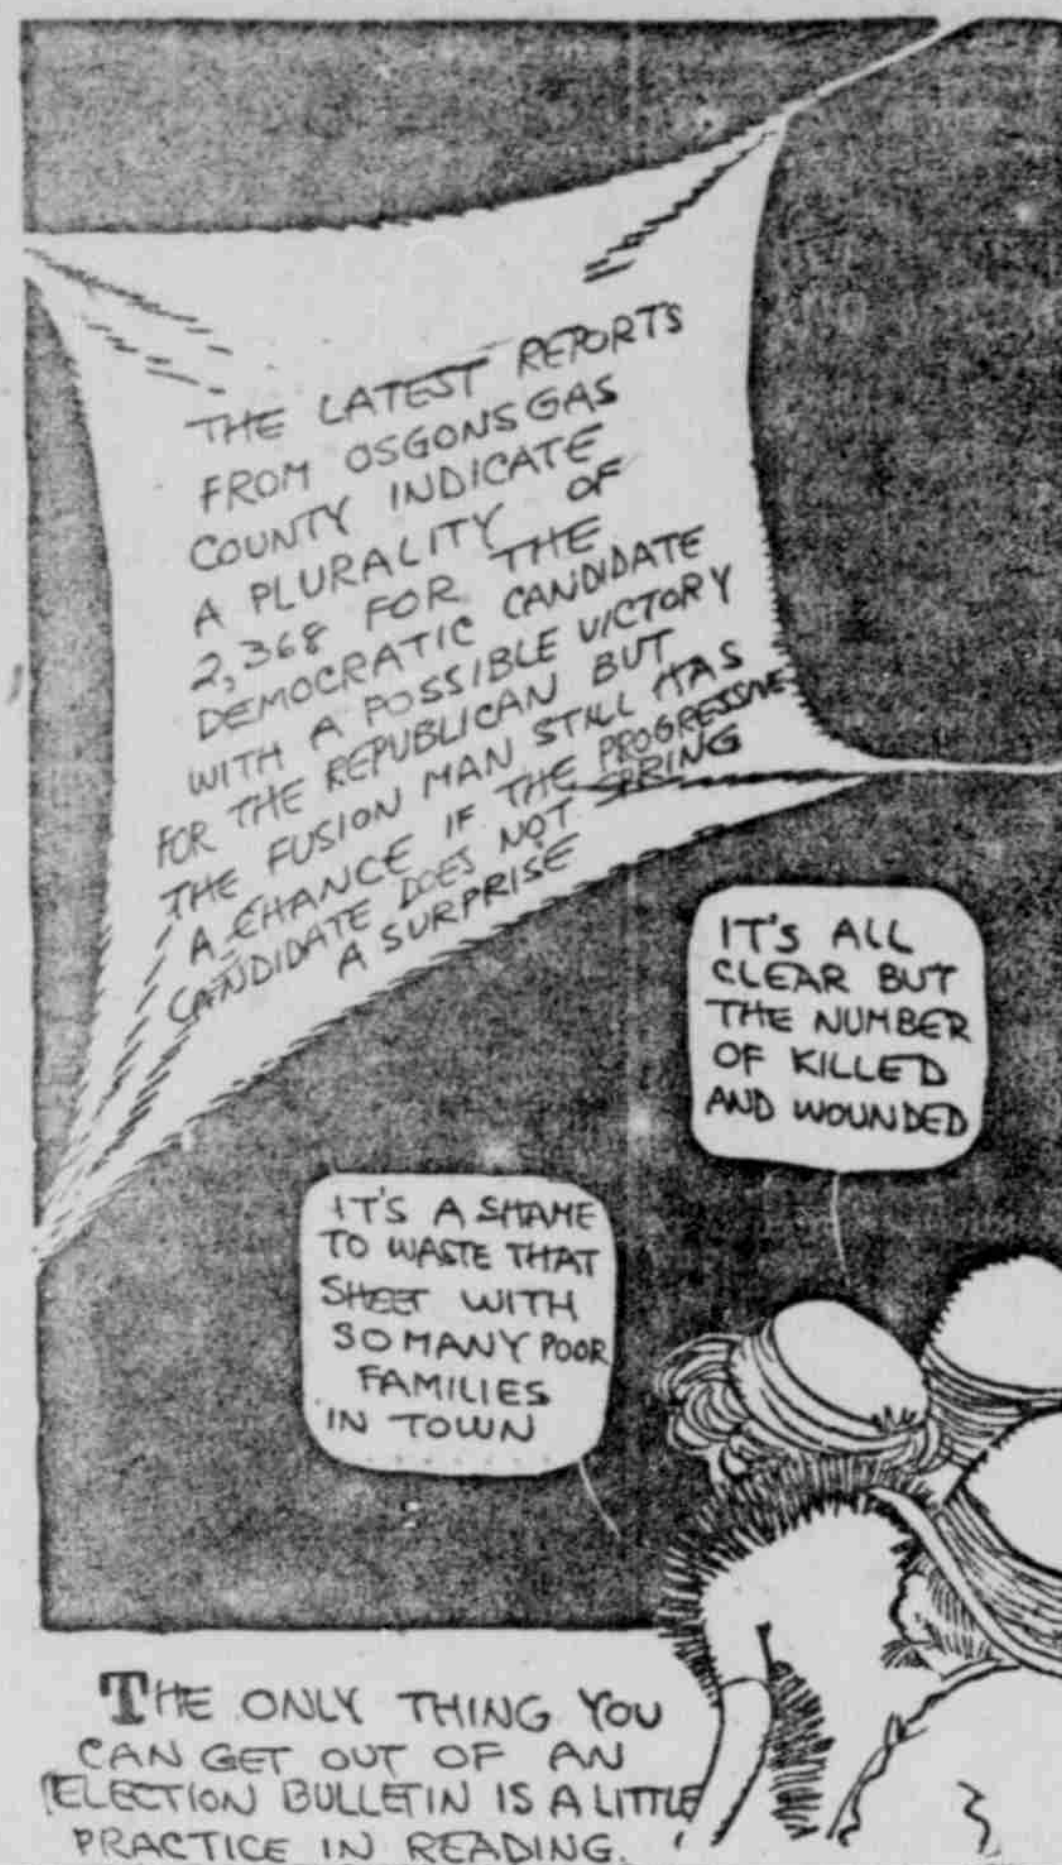

Schaefer and Altrock Will Continue With Washington.

Germany Schaefer and Nick Altrock, the widely known baseball meddlers, will be seen in Washington uniforms again next year. Schaefer and Altrock have been of considerable assistance to the team for the last three years, and it has been due to their expert coaching that the Senators have won many games during that period.

Altrock is the coach of the young left-hand pitchers, and his able instruction has been of great help to those who proved to be one of the big surprises of the American league race last year. In addition to being very valuable men to Griffith, Schaefer and Altrock contribute largely to keeping the players in good humor, thus helping wonderfully.

LIFER ESCAPES.

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 4.—James Wells, under a life sentence for the murder of Frank Linnacker, a Cincinnati fur buyer, escaped from jail Monday. With a poker he pried out enough bricks to make a hole in the wall.

PARLOR BASEBALL ONCE TRIED BY BALTIMORE AND BOSTON—IT FAILED.

BY JOE KELLEY.

"You can refine baseball all you please," said Joe Kelley, the old Baltimore star, "and you can make a parlor game out of it by giving the umpire power of life and death, but you can't stop the players' tongues without an ax."

"Baseball can be made gentlemanly all right, but it won't stand for this

Lord Chesterfield stuff, no any, despite the efforts of writers and magistrates.

"Years ago, Baltimore and Boston—and they were some ball clubs—tried to play a polite, courteous game, to see how it would work. Both teams agreed to try out the polished conversation stuff instead of the usual flow of gab.

"The newspapers had been criticizing the players for roughness and bad language, and we wanted to prove we could be as decent."

"The first half inning was lovely. Even when Tim Hurst called a strike on Tom McCarthy that was a foot high, there was no outbreak.

"Wash that ball a trifle high, Mr. Umpire!" Tom asked, all courtesy. "I fear I may have erred in judgment, Mr. McCarthy, kindly overlook it if you will," replied Tim with a grin.

"And in our half when Jack Doyle went down to second in a cloud of dust and Tim said 'Out!' Jack jumped up, red in the face, yelled 'What the—' caught himself and said, 'Pardon me, but I thought Mr. Long failed to touch me.' And says Herman Long, equally polite, 'I am under the impression that I did touch Mr. Doyle, just as Chesterfield as you please.'

"But the blow off came in the second. We had three on the bases and two gone, with Jennings at bat. Reck made a dash for the plate on what he thought was a passed ball. The Boston catcher recovered the ball, but as he dove for the plate Jennings wandered into him and spilled him ten feet away.

"Out for interference!" yelled Hurst—and then everybody arrived at the plate in a bunch.

"You Irish loafer!" shrieked Reitz, "what am I out for?"

"You red-headed stiff!" roared the Boston catcher at Jennings. "I ought to knock your block off and for two cents I'd do it."

"You're a piece of cheese," snarled Jennings, "and this bum umpire is a porch-climbing burglar."

"For Moses' sake, remember," I butted in, "that this is supposed to be a polite and courteous game to prove we know how to behave." And somebody hit me across the map with a catcher's glove.

"I can lick every man of you!" howled Tim Hurst, "and I'll do it if you're not back in yer places inside half a minute."

"You're a cheap crook!" howled Muggsy McGraw.

"You're all a bunch of yellow dogs," replied Hurst and there the matter ended."

CONVICTS RAISE FUND.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 4.—Convicts in the state penitentiary have raised a fund of $121 which they offer for the capture of John Hayden, a Negro prisoner who escaped. The offer sets forth that the convicts are "grieved over the fact that John Hayden has violated the trust reposed in us by our kind warden."

N. D. FOOTBALL HEROES NOW COACHING—CROWLEY

The memory of "Chuck" Crowley, star right end of last year's varsity eleven, is still fresh in the minds of many at Notre Dame. Crowley was graduated in 1913 and this fall is engaged in coaching the football team at Dallas university. Dallas is a new school and as yet her teams are not the best in the south but "Chuck" in his first year as a coach has revolutionized football at the Texas school and has developed a splendid minor college eleven.

Crowley came to Notre Dame in 1910 and when Longman shifted Matthews from end to quarter, "Chuck" filled the wing vacancy. He made good at once and earned his monogram in his first year. It was in the M. A. C. game in 1910 that Crowley first loomed up as a capable wing man. His work in the Rose Poly and Buchtel games was particularly good.

In 1911 Crowley was one of the few veterans left upon whom the new coach, Jack Marks, depended to turn out a first-class team. "Chuck" played a splendid game at end that year and was given a position on the all-state team at the close of the season. In the Wabash game which Notre Dame won, six to three, it was mainly through Crowley's great defensive work that the Little Giants were kept from scoring a touchdown. He was the first man down on punts and his tackling was hard and sure. He was a wonder on breaking up interference and spilling the man with the ball.

Crowley was in every big game in 1911 and starred both on the offense and on the defense. He was a big factor in the Pittsburgh and Marquette contests and his speed and agility enabled him to pull down long forward passes. At the football banquet at the close of the season he was elected assistant captain for the next year.

The season of 1912 was Crowley's last as a college player and it was also the greatest of the star end's football career. Because of his splendid showing in the Wabash and Marquette contests he was picked for second all-western end by R. W. Lardner in the Chicago Examiner and, for the second time, all-state end by the Indianapolis writers. Notre Dame won renown for her success in the use of the forward pass and Crowley was one of the ends that helped to build up this reputation.

BIG INJUN KISSUM SQUAW

"Smack!" It echoed through the crowded lobby of the Hotel Baltimore at Kansas City the other day. It was "Jim" Thorpe, the world's champion athlete, kissing his bride goodby. Thorpe was leaving with other members of the world tourists, in uniform, for the ball park. He would be gone from her three long hours.

Mrs. Thorpe was Miss Margaret Iva Miller up until the 15th of this month. She is a Cherokee Indian. Her husband is Sac and Fox. Other bridegrooms in the party are "Jeff" Tesreau and "Red" Russell.

It's a tougher job to chaperon the honeymooners than to take the Giants through a season," Manager McGraw sighed.

WHAT PITCHERS COST GRIFF

"Old Fox" Picks up Stars Without Paying Out Money.

Clark Griffith says he is through buying pitchers.

"Go out and pick 'em up," says Griffith. "That's the way. Walter Johnson did not cost Washington a cent, while Boehling, Shaw, Bentley, Harper and Engle did not cost me a nickel. Boehling and Engle have made good already, while Shaw looks like a phenom, with Bentley and Harper showing great promise."

What Griffith says may be true, but the chances are that Boehling and Shaw will cost Washington something before another year has passed.

Griffith has entered into an agreement to pay Dick Guy of Pittsburgh a handsome sum if Shaw made good. While Bill Peet, the skillful Washington writer, has asked for $1,000 in return for having tipped the club off to Boehling. Up to date, however, he has had to whistle for his money, but he is getting rather tired of making that kind of noise.

Groceries and markets will close Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27th and 12th. Dealers and clerks meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock.—Advertisement.

NO POST GAME FOR N. D. AND MICHIGAN AGGIES

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 4.—Coach Macklin, of the Michigan Agricultural college football team, said Monday night there would be no post season game between Notre Dame and M. A. C. this year. Efforts had been made to arrange a meeting between the two eleven for Thanksgiving day, the contest to be staged in Detroit or Chicago.

Macklin opposed post-season games because they necessitate keeping the team in training too long after the close of the regular season.

WANDERS FROM HOME.

Mrs. Barbara Foster, 80, Monday, wandered from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mike Fraher, 1241 E. Corby st., where she lives and was found at 2130 Highland boulevard at about 9 o'clock Monday night. She was taken home by the police. Mrs. Foster two weeks ago disappeared and was found two miles east of Mishawaka.

PLANS TO BRING WABASH HERE NEAR COMPLETION

Famous Downstate Eleven Billed to Appear Against Huebners at Springbrook Sunday.

That the Wabash Athletics will play the Huebners at Springbrook park Sunday afternoon is assured if the latest negotiations between the Wabash manager and Manager Kertis of the Huebners result in an agreement. It is reported that the two have been arranged to meet with the satisfaction of both parties and that the Wabash champions will clash with the Huebners Sunday for the championship of the west. Final arrangements are to be made tonight.

Varnell, ex-captain of the Culver Military academy team, will serve as captain of the team on its visit here in the absence of "Red" Milner. The latter was operated upon Monday for injuries received in the Muncie game last Sunday. He lies in a serious condition at the Hope hospital in Ellettsville.

PAYS FINE.

Simon Bogor, 60, paid a fine of $10 and costs assessed in the circuit court for assault and battery. Bogor had been found guilty in the justice court but appealed the case. Before trial in the higher court, he entered a plea of guilty and accepted the fine.

CAPTAIN EXECUTED.

MADRID, Nov. 4.—Capt. Sanchez of the Spanish army, who was sentenced to death by court martial for the murder of Senor Jalon, a wealthy landowner, in September, over a dispute at cards, was executed Monday on the military parade grounds by a squad of soldiers.

PLAYERS DRIVEN IN PREPARATION FOR PENN STATE

Coach Harper Permits Notre Dame Warriors No Rest, Sending Them Through a Strenuous Drill.

Notre Dame's victorious eleven received no rest yesterday. Coach Harper sent his charges through an hour and a half of sharp signal drill. With the Penn State game but four days away the old and blue team was given to understand that it must hustle every minute to down the strong Pennsylvania eleven. Every man that played in the Army game with the exception of Feeney was out yesterday. The speedy center is laid up with a lame shoulder but will undoubtedly be in condition this afternoon.

Although it was soon so dark that the forms of the men could hardly be distinguished from the side lines, the Notre Dame coaches refused to permit a stop but ran the men through the signal drill at a fast clip. Harper followed up the regulars and carefully scored them for every slip up. Forward passing and open playing was given strict attention and because of the success of this style of play at West Point it is likely that Notre Dame will stick to it for the rest of the season.

The Varsity Shows Dash.

The varsity ran through the drill with plenty of dash and snap and seldom did anyone miss his signal. Because of Feeney's absence Voelkers worked at center. Dorais' splendid passing delighted the rooters. It was his marvelous signal for catching high punts that baffled the Army and caused the New York sporting writers to take off their hats to the little gold and blue man as one of the greatest quarterbacks ever seen at West Point. At times during the game Saturday, although their team was going down to defeat, the cadet rooters rose as one man and cheered wildly for the little general who was responsible for Notre Dame's long gains.

Dorais did not miss a punt at West Point, a fact which puzzled eastern sporting men. The Army because of a high, blue sky is noted for being exceedingly difficult for catching high punts and even the great "Fat" Jones was helpless in the old Yale-Army games. Dorais' headwork was perfect. He kicked up his plays and changed every line attack so often that the West Pointers were completely bewildered and Notre Dame romped through them with ease.

Eichenlaub is in splendid shape despite his fierce line plunging in Saturday's fray. The heavy Army line crumpled before his rushes and he repeatedly ripped through for gains of eight and ten yards. On the defense he often saved Notre Dame from being hurled back. As a defensive center he strengthened the gold and blue line considerably and the Army could not gain through the Notre Dame forwards.

Pliska and Fumessan were working well yesterday though the latter has a bad foot. Flinnegan's line plunging was irresistible and he tore the soldiers' defense to shreds. Pliska was a big factor in the success of the forward pass and short heaves from Dorais to the speedy halfbacks were often converted into long gains.

Notre Dame's line is now in perfect trim. For six straight downs they presented a stone wall front which the Army had the ball on the gold and blue yard line. They held for four downs but Army was given first down again because of offside play on the part of Notre Dame. On the seventh down Quarterback Pritchard broke through for a touchdown.

Harper Favors "New" Game.

Notre Dame's success with the open game, their mastery of the difficult forward pass directly due to the coaching of Harper. The new athletic director is a firm believer in the new style of football and the overwhelming victory of the gold and blue men is a tribute to the work of their coach.
